The aim of the international week

The aim of the international week is to enhance cooperation, information circulation, sharing good ideas and best practices between the academic and support staff of our partner institutions. Additionally we provide culture programme to familiarize participants with Estonian history and culture.

Costs

Participation in the scheduled programme of the international week is free of charge, including culture programme and welcome dinner. Participants are responsible for covering their travel and accommodation costs and making respective arrangements. Please contact the international office of your home institution to discuss possible funding options, for example Erasmus+ programme, Nordplus programme, EEA Norway scholarship grant programme.

Accommodation

Participants are welcome to choose any hotel of their preference but we suggest you to stay at our partner hotels that offer our guests better prices:

Kreutzwald Hotel Tallinn (standard single room 55 EUR per night, standard double room 57 EUR per night, extra fee for a Zen room with jacuzzi 15 EUR per room per night)

The price comprises turnover tax, breakfast and Wifi

Please make your booking at reserv.kwh@uhotelsgroup.com
